The story of the bearded young man and the Wissim begins from his feet, which took him to the beach to relieve part of the pressures of daily life, like many young Gazans. While his gaze was deep into the sea,

, there was something under his feet that he bent and picked up. His hands, but his remarkable color made him keep it and soon witnessed his friends to start a new journey by chance. man did not The young stop searching for the stone he owned and he quickly searched through the Internet to discover that his emerald is an emerald stone, one of the most precious stones in the world.

He tried to uncover more and closer to find what is in stone. The young man Alaa says: "After searching and investigating the websites, the stone matches with many of the pictures on the net and the stone contains four marks (scarcity - color - weight - impurities) "Many of the sites were talking about some of the procedures known to the original stone from the imitator, including the penetration of the light and its dispersion. The original stone has the impurities of the muss scale, the hardness of the white scratching, the glitter, the leaking and the air bubbles, and all these characteristics and signs met in the stone with me. And continued with many brothers outside the sector where they were offering a number of carats of thousands of dollars, including Jordan and Saudi Arabia and at the first glance of the stone images confirmed that the emerald and the severity of vegetables said perhaps Colombia is the most expensive stones "I went to the owners of gold shops and said that they do not deal with these stones and saw the stone one gold seller and looked at the magnifying glass and said this stone is natural. The young man Alaa went quickly to the Department of Metals in the Ministry of Economy and examined the specific density of the stone to be 2.5, the closest density of emerald stone. Adding that the stone is natural and not a factory stone and its color is similar to emeralds, and that the hardness mousse exceeds 6.5 to 7 with the initial check. But they do not confirm this because there are no machines that scan these stones, even if they are not emeralds, I have a fortune that is not natural. "I am trying now to cut it in the form of the map of Palestine to be a necklace in a gold necklace or in a ring and small stones in a ring as in the picture, this is the ring I have.
