Arab League Stresses Importance of International Support for UNRWA

The Arab League stressed the importance of the continuous international support for the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA).

The Arab League said in a statement today that Ahmed Aboul Gheit Secretary General of the Arab League will take part in the international conference, scheduled to be held tomorrow in the Italian capital Rome to provide support to the UNRWA, which receives a great attention by the Arab League.

It also stressed that UNRWA is under a vicious attack aims at reducing its role by blocking funding and pushing it towards a long financial crisis, which requires international efforts to strengthen the pivotal role of the UNRWA. It pointed out that the UNRWA provides basic services for about 5.5 million Palestinians, which reflects the international commitment and responsibility towards the tragedy of the Palestinian refugees.

The Arab league added that the importance of this extraordinary ministerial meeting, which is called for by Jordan, Egypt and Sweden in order to address the severe financial crisis facing the UNRWA.

Discovery of Ancient Vessels in Ibri

I've always wondered what sabr is. I was never given a proper definition so my concept of it was somewhat distorted; all I understood was that you wait until it's over. But now, if I were to put it into words, bear with me, this is what I've gathered so far: sabr is suppressing that angry voice in your head, the one that wants to yell at people for being inconsiderate to your struggle. Sabr is swallowing this voice, overcoming it, learning to channel it towards a heartfelt du'a instead. Sabr is forgiving someone when they dismiss your feelings. Sabr is meeting those who deserted you, with a smile on your lips, even though your tears are one step away from exposing you. Sabr is staying silent because you've already stated your point too many times before. Sabr is conforming to someone's demand because of their right over you. Sabr is fulfilling the rights of others even when they transgress against yours. Sabr is crying about your heartache in front of Allah and no one else. Sabr is believing wholeheartedly that Allah has beautiful things in store for you. Sabr is crawling forward even when you want to stop. Sabr is an active state of being, it is not a theory to simply be discussed and forgotten. And it is worth it. Every single second of it is so worth it because Allah loves the patient. And it's worth going through the worst of the worst if it means that it will gain you Allah's love. A beautiful patience, ya Allah, I ask You for a beautiful patience.

New Abaya Style in Nowadays Society

In the last few months, we notice that some girls use new style of wear Abaya in our society which is the short Abaya. Some girls start changing the way of covering their body to make Abaya little shorter in the purpose of showing part of their legs which got lots of objections.

Muna Salim said: I see the abaya is besetment of women's freedom and sense of the movement co. So I welcome any change may contribute to the reduction of the control of the phenomenon, whether Abaya short or even the idea of indispensable of the basis for.

Alzahraa Alfa-rei said:

Actually, I don't like the idea of the short Abaya because I fell it will be not useful and does not make the abaya job , which is to cover your whole body! So I think it's better to wear something different from short abaya if you don't want abaya job.

Anhar said: Short Abaya: It is not a bad idea for me and I welcome it if it is wide and jacketed I think it is easy to deal with the abaya short as it facilitates the sanctity especially when you are in places that require a lot of sanctity and continuous progress, and it is useful and practical while going to the walkway or the garden.

Fatma Aljazmi said : Iam against the girl who wears a short Abaya because it reflects for the West the image of the society badly and because from the top, and the Abaya mainly designed for decency and concealment not to draw attention. In my opinion girls who wear this kind of abayas has no idea what is the meaning of abaya and why we are as moslim girls are wear abayas. I am with those who found it it's kind of free dome but not by crossing the limit of how much eslam really careful about keeping us covered as much as possible.

Talent behind the Curtain

Mr. Yunis while making new bracelet in his workshop

Behind the curtain many of the distinctive stories and between the rubble and darkness, jewels and cadres and skilled hands preferred to stay behind the curtain for personal reasons and despite the injustice of the place and the clock and the depth of which we could find the hands of skill in the manufacture of jewelry and necklaces. Mr. Yunis Behind the Curtain In this article, Mr. Yunis will tell us about his unique hobby, which lasted for four years, despite his work in the government sector and his preoccupations, but he continued to develop his hobby and devoted quite a bit of time to reaching a certain level in the manufacture of gold and silver necklaces With distinction and skill.* Syed Yunus Welcome today as a guest of our modest newspaper we said who are you in one sentence? Welcome, the fan of the machine (the machine that carved the names).* Sayed Yunus Our article today, entitled (talent behind the curtain) behind the curtain, do you see that it is in place or did we make a mistake? Good title behind the curtain well chosen, carries a lot of meanings. * Tell us about your first step in making necklaces? The first time it was a mere idea of the National Day, was a bracelet of beads and crystal, has not yet time to make the names of gold and silver.

* Do you remember the first necklace you made, how did it look?

Yes, the first necklace was in my mother's name and it was very wonderful, I worked on it for 5 days. I put on beads and printed the name.

* Tell us about the nicest necklace you have made in your collection?

A necklace in which the name of the ancient Sultanate (Majan) has an old stone,* If you make a necklace that you are not satisfied with or not at the level, do you get rid of it or disintegrating or is it included in the group?

Of course I get rid of them forever.

* Describe how you feel after you finish making a necklace? I feel like a new baby born on my hands and a lot of joy.

* How long does it take to make one necklace?

According to the necklace in the necklace you need crystal, stone, beads and two days or necklace and bangles beads five or more hours.

* How many pendant have you made so far? Over almost thousands

* Will your hobby remain behind the curtain or will it grow larger and become a second source of income? Is a hobby and aspire to become a source of livelihood in a day and I hope it develops and seeks to become a global brand in a day.
