WHY!

The black House has been gripped by anxiety and tension over the past weeks because of "uncontrollable" person, TonalD Frump, Lala Land president, who is suffering from fragile psychological condition and mental disorders.

Lina Luna, the close friend of TonalD and the corporate communications manager of his office, who often worked as a psychiatrist, resigned last week, which raised concerns about Frump's psychological condition.

This leded The Congress to start investigating on his condition to decide whether his able to rule the country competency.

Following investigations that provided sufficient evidence by forensic psychologists which approved Framp's fragile psychological condition and mental disorders, The Congress has issued an official statement and announcement Yesterday, Monday at 10:00 AM in all Media channels stating TonalD Framp's dismissal from his presidential role.

Therefore, Lala Land citizens are expecting a new presidential election in the upcoming months.

Features

Book Fair in Lala Land!

An educational organization which is the first of its kind in Lala land will be launched on Tuesday, Nov 25 2050 . This organization encourages people to share their books to other people in order to increase the education level among the community. In our interview with the director of this organization, he said, “this organization provides specialized buses moving between homes in Lala land..

These buses have library experts who stop at some points to explain the idea of this organization to the public.” The most important feature of this organization is that it allows you to take any book from the books on this bus, provided that you place a book from your own library. The process of exchange between books may contribute to raising reading rates among the people and raising the rate of people’s knowledge of various issues in the society

How a Talgarian young man flee from his home to the prison of refugees.

November 4th 2050: a young man fled from the war in Talgeria to Lala Land , after several attempts we managed to extract a few quotes as the following. M.S highlights that, “Most of the older people back in Talgeria have no longer strength to mobilize like the younger generations and therefore decides to stay put. We are not afraid of death but it is the psychological trauma of the environment that is conducive to war that are affecting our daily lifestyle and forcing us to leave We as younger generations have to flee to search for our future and in order to live Not many children are lucky enough to cross borders into another country and gain the proper and right education. The refugee crisis is currently at its worst situation. “I hope that my country will resolve its political issue and I pray every day for every Talgerian’s return to our beloved homeland.

Sports

Drama and racism in the Arena

On the finale of the 2050 lightweight wrestling championship, between the widely known wrestling champions “Johan Snow, aged 27” who had 24 wins of total ,and “Tyrion Lannister ,aged 28” who surpassed him with 2 wins to be 26 totals wins. The wrestlers had arrived to the Arena, in Dragonstone, Lala Land, brutally excited to see who will be taking the championship’s cup to their, homeland.

As the two players warmed up, the tension was building up, especially on J.Snow, that he insulted the Lannister player Tyrion racially, religiously and even his family, however, Tyrion was clearly unpleased but he didn’t show any unnecessary reaction. In an unprofessional manner, the Lannister wrestler hurled himself over the top of the octagon, to exchange punches with the Northern coach, Ramsy Bolton, The security guards rushed to fend them off, but the fight peaked as three more trainers got involved in the fight whose intention was mainly to defend their athlete, but it only kept getting worse. After all, the GOT commission had agreed to disapprove T. Lannister’s win, belt, and financial award, his followers were frustrated about the decision, but it was summed. However he and his team have publicly apologized but are still awaiting an apology from Snow and his team and an agreement for a rematch.

WORLD'S ACCIDENTS

D.T airways plane hijacked

In the early morning of October 8 2050, D.T airways Boeing 999 flying to Doomtown carrying 314 passengers from different nationalities was hijacked shortly after takeoff from Saim City airport. The hijackers were seeking robbing a group of important businessmen on the plane who were heading to attend the international trade conference in Saim City.

Later DoomTown authorities knew that one of the cabin crew's was involved with the hijackers. The cabin crew (Deneris Targarian 27 years old) allowed 2 of the hijackers into the pilots cockpit forcing them to communicate with Saim city authority demanding 1 billion coins in exchange of the safety of the passengers. While three armed hijackers were forcing the group of businessmen to empty all their bank accounts and transfer the amounts to several foreign accounts.

The flight kept going in loops till the authorities obeyed to their demands as well as providing them with a plane that will take them to unknown location once they land and release all the passengers safely. Once the hijacked flight landed in Saim city, the authority made sure to exchange the passengers safely and take them into the terminal while the hijackers transferred to their escape aircraft. The pilots were actually military pilots, once the escape flight landed in Saim down town the pilots already reported to the authorities which were at the airport ready to catch them and hand them to the international court of criminal law. The authority was able to return the 1 billion pounds as well as most of the transferred amounts but some was difficult to track and it's under process till the moment. British airways held a press conference apologizing to all the passengers and their families for the unfortunate events happened and promised to give a financial compensation. In addition, British airways said that they will be stricter when it comes to recruiting their staff as well as improving their security levels.
